

Historical Textile Design

I created this historic textile design by combining two different motifs from two different eras. The first motif I was inspired by is fan vaulting that was first used during the gothic era in cathedrals and the second decorative detail I incorporated into my design is the organic forms that characterized the Art Nouveau era.

